RICHMOND SCHOOL WEEKLY NEWSLETTER

DAN WESTON, PRINCIPAL

FROM PRINCIPAL'S OFFICE:

RCS Community,

It was a busy week at RCS. On Monday, the band students were treated to a concert by Diana Burco. Diana Burco is Colombian singer-songwriter and accomplished accordion player who is a two time Latin Grammy nominee. Ms. Burco performed and answered questions for about 45 minutes.

Monday also saw the return of the Massachusetts Audubon work with our 5th graders together with the Housatonic Valley Association. The HVA is working with our students through the engineering lens of finding solutions to pollution in stormwater runoff.

We continue to share school wide COVID-19 data on our webpage under the heading of Recent News/ COVID-19 RCS Local Data. Please reach out to me or Nurse Lenfest if you have any questions or concerns. Home testing kits went home today. Please check your student's bag for them if you participate in that program.

We have included a revised MCAS schedule. We encourage parents/guardians to contact the school in advance if you are aware of any family conflicts with testing dates.

Just a reminder that Friday, April 1st is half day of school for professional development.

Have a great weekend!
Dan Weston

1st Grade
Double Digit Math With Lucky the Leprechaun

"Elf" Helpers of the Day!!

Mrs. Zigmand and Ms. Padilla are currently working with the 2nd graders on a passion project during their collaborative technology time. Students have been learning how to research, take notes and choose a platform for their final presentation. Choices included posters, slideshows and videos using the green screen. One student, Luke Saupe, chose to do a green screen video about how to do a science experiment. The first picture shows the filming process and the second picture shows a screenshot of the finished video with a background added.

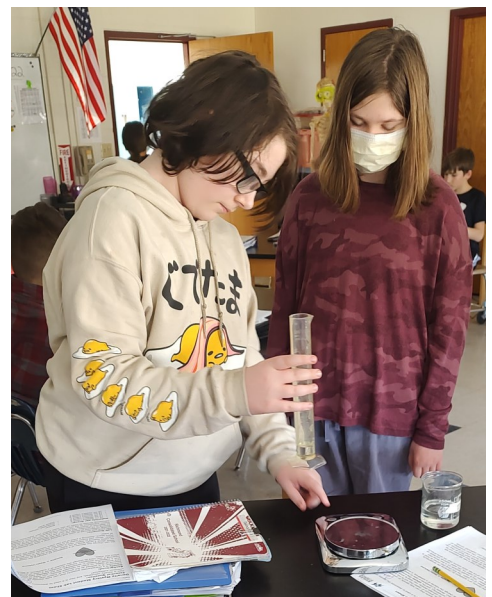

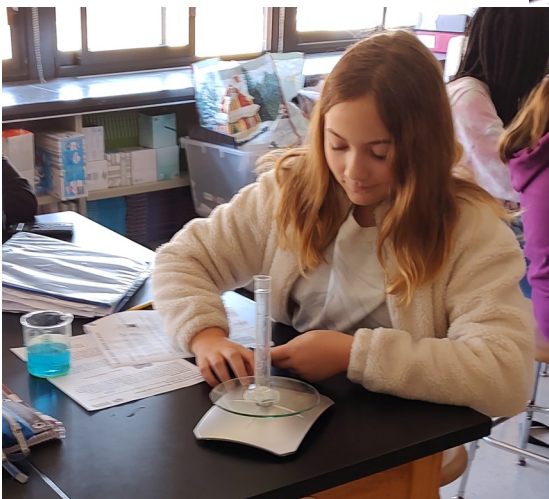

Wednesday morning, one Second Grade student popped her head into Mrs. Renfrew's room and asked, "Tomorrow is St. Patrick's Day. Can we build a trap and try to catch a leprechaun tonight?" Mrs. Renfrew said, "They are really hard to catch." Later that day, the Grade 2 Reading Buddies asked to build a trap. And they did. They designed a basket with a lid that could drop on the leprechaun when he looked into the basket. The basket was placed on a closet door, and the room was decorated with rainbows and shamrocks, and just a few gold coins to tease the leprechaun into looking in the basket.

When the Second Graders came in the next day, they were so surprised to find lots of footprints on the walls and counters. There was a green leprechaun hat poking out of the basket. The gold coins were gone.

The Reading Buddies looked inside the basket and found 4 notes addressed to each Buddy, but there was no leprechaun, just his hat. The notes said, "Thanks for the shamrocks and rainbows. I escaped! Ha Ha Ha! Thank you for the gold coins." William the Leprechaun. The children looked around the room to see if he was hiding, but no William was found. But... there was a lot of giggling and excitement."
